REDUCED by 20,000€: Cortijo Nati is a rural property with stables, surrounded by mountains and stunning views in every direction. There is an electric entrance gate and 2 driveways, one to the main house with plenty of parking and one to the stables which also has parking and a large garage. The plot is fully landscaped with rock retaining walls, pergolas, pathways, sitting areas, plants and trees. There is a garage with a room on the main level which could be converted into a casita with little work. The house has an impressive porch and antique wooden front door which opens up into a hallway with feature brick wall and an alarm system. The lounge is very open with a beamed ceiling, new pellet burner, AC unit and patio doors that lead out
