Casa Gloria is a quaint, compact townhouse situated in the popular village of Venta Baja and has views to both the Zafarraya pass and Mount Maroma. The property consists of 2 separate buildings; one being the main house and the other (which is situated directly opposite) can be used for storage or converted into office space as it benefits from mains electricity and water. Outside there is a small terrace to the front of the property, tiled in typical Andalucian tiles. The main front door leads into the living space with a kitchen that requires some modernisation. A recently refurbished bathroom, with bath, is also on the ground floor. The marble stairs lead to 2 bedrooms with shared balcony. Ask for more details…..
