Casa Las Piedras is one of our highest quality finished properties built by a highly established Spanish builder from the Basque region of northern Spain, hence the style of build. The plot is fully fenced with entrance pillars and gates and there are two main terraces, of which the upper terrace holds the main property and the pool terrace, and the lower terrace has access to the car port and irrigated gardens. On entering the property a large kitchen and dining area is separated by a central internal staircase with a large living area positioned on the left. The luxury kitchen has solid wood units plus a light granite work surface and includes top quality NEW appliances. There are many features included such as special tiles throughout al...(Ask for More Details!)
