Casa Molino Viejo, the old mill, is a rare opportunity to own a detached premises central to Puente don Manuel which is located on a large plot of terraced, agricultural land producing a number of fruits and vegetables under which the irrigation is provided via its own well. Also included is a ruin outhouse, which in the future could be reformed to create a 55m² Independent Casita. The building is some somewhat dated but with a few cosmetic changes the living area could be transformed. There are two bedrooms upstairs plus a separate kitchen and lounge then via an internal spiral staircase you enter the lower level which houses a second lounge and a third bedroom. There is also a large roof terrace and a garage below. This property has a lot
